Numb 159.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Thurſday, December 2. to Tueſday, December 14. 1731.

Paris, July 13.

THIS Day Se'nnight, Count Maurice of Saxony received from Norway 14 little Horſes which are 5 Years old, and but Twenty ſix Inches high. On Tueſday he made two of them clamber up to the Comedians at the French Playhouſe, to ſhew them ſome Sport, thoſe Beaſts climbing like Cats: The Count carries them in his Arms, and ſtrokes them like Dogs; They are black and have beautiful Heads and long Tails: They are not ſhooed, neither does the Count deſign they ſhall, having travelled 300 Miles without battering their Hoofs or bruiſing their Feet, and their Hoofs being hard enough for the hardeſt Stones in our Streets. As ſoon as they have perfectly recovered their Fatigue, and are in complete Order, the Count deſigns 8 of them as a Preſent to the Dauphin, to make a Sett for a little Phaeton, to whirl him about the Park of Verſailles, being very fleet.

Turin, July 10. N. S. The King's Council have renewed the Ordinance, whereby all Archbiſhops, Biſhops their Vicars and Officials, Prelates, Rectors and other Members of Univerſities, and all other Eccleſiaſtical Bodies and Communities are ſtrictly forbid to receive or publiſh any Bulls, Briefs, Decrees, or other Diſpatches from the Court of Rome, without the Knowledge and Permiſſion of the Senate; the King's Attorney General having made vigorous Remonſtrances againſt it, and concluded with theſe Words, or Words to this Effect; To what Dangers ſhould we, and thoſe who have the Rule over us, be expoſed, ſhould the Court of Rome be ſuffered to poiſon the Minds of the People with Briefs and Bulls, whenever they think fit, independently of the Supreme Power, and ſuited to their Humour and particular Intereſts? Is it not plain how terribly enraged that Court is at the great Zeal and Affection which the King has ſhewn for his People, by oppoſing the Papal Deſigns of Uſurpation? Have we not ſufficient Evidence, that the Holy See enterprizes the Eſtabliſhment of a ſort of Supreme Juriſdiction in the King's Territories, in order to take the firſt Opportunity that offers to lay the Ground-Work of Slavery, in which Rome would ſhackle all the Powers of Europe?

Naples, July 17. The Secretary of War has ſent Orders to the Tribunal of the Auditor of the Army, to proſecute the Marqueſs Roſa and his Brother with the utmoſt Severity, for the Murder of an Iriſh Officer, whom he kill'd for ſhooting at his Dog. 'Tis written from Sicily, that the Heats are ſo exceſſive there as to break Glaſs Windows, and that ſeveral Children have been ſtifled with it at Trapani and Palermo.

Frankfort, Aug. 5. A melancholy Account is brought hither of the Fruits of the Earth, being entirely deſtroy'd in the Territories of Alefeld, Billingham, Burelbron, Meckmuhl, Ruchem, and ſeveral others, by a dreadful Storm, wherein fell Hail-ſtones of the Size of a Hen's Egg.

Koningsburg, July 24. Some Days ago, the King took the Diverſion of a Fight of Wild Beaſts: In the firſt Place, there was a Battle between two Wild Oxen and ſix furious Bears, two of which were killed upon the Spot: After that Fight had laſted three Hours, his Majeſty killed the Wild Oxen with his Screw barrel'd Gun: One of the Balls which he ſhot at the biggeſt of the Oxen, hit him directly upon the Forehead, but inſtead of entring, rebounded juſt as if it had been ſhot againſt a Wall. Afterwards ſeveral Dogs were let looſe upon the Bears, which were let out one by one, and were killed by the Count de Schlieben and M. Bock, Great Maſter of the Foreſts in Pomerania. The laſt of thoſe Bears, which was exceeding wild, had like to have coſt M. Bock dear: That Animal, tho' very much wounded, having two Spears in his Body, and 15 Dogs upon him, flew at M. Bock, and having broke the Spear which M. Bock darted at him, he diſmounted him, tore off Part of his Clothes, and would certainly have diſpatch'd him, if the Count de Schlieben, who haſtned to his Aſſiſtance, had not kill'd the Bear with a Spear.

London, Auguſt 11. On Saturday laſt a Mariner was arreſted on board a Ship in the River, by Virtue of a Warrant from the High Court of Admiralty, being charged with ſelling and confiſcating the Ship Dove and its Cargo, in Carolina, without the Conſent or Privity of the Proprietors; two Actions are laid againſt him, one for 500 l. and the other for 1000 l. He goes by ſeveral Names, viz. Patrick, John, and George Scot. We hear the Captain of the Dove dy'd in the Voyage, and he being chief Mate took upon him the Command thereof, and diſpoſed of it as he thought convenient: He was yeſterday carried to the Marſhalſea by a Meſſenger belonging to the High Court of Admiralty, in order to be further examined about that Affair.

London, Auguſt 17. We are inform'd, that there are lately arriv'd from Buenos Ayros in the South-Sea, ſeveral curious and uncommon wild Beaſts, which were on Saturday laſt ſhewn to their Majeſties and the whole Court with univerſal Satisfaction, the like having never been ſeen in England before: There are among them a Lioneſs, a Hydra, and Tygers of an uncommon Size, one of which is ſo very tame, as quietly to receive Food from the Hands of the Keeper.

Hague, Auguſt 14. N. S. The Prince of Orange is teazed with Invitations from all Quarters, every one ſtriving to outdo the other in entertaining that young Prince. The Ambaſſadors of England and France in particular have given him magnificent Regales. His Highneſs appears much in Publick, and frequently walks on foot: It is amazing to ſee how fond our People are of him; he putting them in mind (they ſay) of the Services his Anceſtors rendered their dear Father-Land. In a word, the Sight of this young Prince, who is now entring into his 21ſt Year, revives their Hopes, and fills them with agreable Idea's of what this precious Remains will do for them, when once he is veſted with the Dignity of General Stadholder of the Republick. He can never get in or out of his Coach, but People are ready to cruſh one another to Death to ſee him; and when he appears at any publick Aſſembly, there is not room to ſtick a Pin.

Amſterdam, September 7. It is confirmed from Baſtia, the 15th paſt, that 800 Genoeſe, ſupported by the Imperial Auxiliaries, attacked on the 10th the Poſts which the Rebels had poſſeſſed near that Capital; and, after ſome Reſiſtance, obliged obliged them to retire in Confuſion to the Mountains, killing about 400, with the Loſs of 3 Soldiers only, and the Rebels left behind them 4 Braſs Cannons, 10 Barrels of Powder, and other Ammunition: About 50 were taken Priſoners, among them a Capuchin, one of their chief Preachers. Afterwards 700 Germans took the Town of Cardo, ſeized a great Quantity of Proviſions there, and then ſet it on Fire; and on the 15th another Body of 2000 Germans attacked 7000 Rebels near Foriano, and after a Fight of ſome Hours, obliged them to quit the Field; and the ſame Day they took Poſſeſſion of that City.

From Genoa of the 18th, that an Expreſs being arrived there, of the Defeat of the Rebels before Baſtia, and in other Places, a general Amneſtie was ſent in Favour of the Rebels of that Iſland, who ſhall ſubmit in 15 Days, except the Towns and Villages which appear'd moſt obſtinate in the Rebellion, as alſo the Chiefs of the Rebels; and the Republick promiſes 2000 Crowns Reward for the Head of one of thoſe Chiefs, and 2500 to deliver him up alive; That divers Towns and Villages had ſent Deputies to beg for Pardon, and that the 11th they had executed ſeveral Rebels, guilty of the moſt flagrant Crimes.

Paris, Aug. 15. Forges and Glaſs-Houſes being grown too numerous in this Kingdom, and conſuming ſuch a Quantity of Wood, that there is not enough left to ſupply the Towns, which may prove of very bad conſequence; the Council is making a new Regulation upon that Subject, whereby the Erection of any new ones will be prevented, unleſs by ſuch as ſhall obtain Patents for the ſame.

Dublin, Sept. 11. This Morning about 6 a clock, the Alarm Gun was fired, for the Arrival of the Duke of Dorſet, our Lord Lieutenant, to the great Joy of the Publick; the Drums immediately after beat to Arms for the Soldiery to line the Streets for his Paſſage, and all preparations were made for his Grace's Reception. About Three in the Afternoon his Grace and his Dutcheſs, with ſeveral Perſons of Diſtinction, landed here from England, and was received on Shore with the loudeſt Acclamations of the People, firing of Guns, and other Marks of Joy, and proceeded to the Council Chamber in the Caſtle, where he was ſworn, and received the Sword in the uſual manner, a great Number of Nobility and Gentry being preſent, who expreſt the moſt dutiful Reſpect and Thankfulneſs to his Majeſty, and their great Satisfaction upon his Grace's ſafe Arrival to the Government of this Kingdom.

Extract of a Letter from Lisbon, dated Sept. 16. N.S.

On the 10th arrived here Capt. Waller from the Weſtern Iſlands, from whence we have Letters adviſing, that a Lute-ſtern'd Pink, Daniel Haley, Maſter, was run away with from thence by her Crew. The Maſter and Portugueze were on ſhore, when the Men on board cut her Cables, and ſuch Men as were not enclined to Piracy, they turn'd on ſhore at Angra; then hoiſting Britiſh Colours, they fired a Gun, Shot and all, at the Caſtle, by way of Defiance, and ſtood to Sea, having only ſeven Men in her. She had on board a Cargo of Bale Goods worth 20,000 Cruſadoes.

Hague, Sept. 10. On the 1ſt Inſtant, the Prince of Orange's Birth-day was celebrated at Leuwaarden with a Stretch of Splendor and Magnificence; his Highneſs then entring into the 21ſt Year of his Age: And on the 3d, he was introduced into the Aſſembly of the States of Frieſland, where he was inſtalled into the Office of Stadtholder and Captain General of the Province, with the uſual Ceremonies; and after having taken the Oaths as ſuch, he enter'd upon the Exerciſe of his Office. That Inſtalment was made in a very ſolemn Manner, and attended with the loud Acclamations of the People. The Prince, who is now his own Maſter, has already ſhewn ſome Tokens of it, by making ſeveral Removes in his Family, and recalling ſome truſty Servants who were not permitted to wait upon him during his Minority. His Highneſs is ſpeedily expected again at the Hague, where it is ſaid he will ſpend the Winter.

LONDON, Sept. 25.

Vaſt Preparations are making at the Envoy of Portugal's Houſe in Golden Square, for the Reception of that Prince, who is hourly expected: Above Fifty Beds are putting up there for his Highneſs and his Retinue.

Upon the Removal of the Court to St. James's, his Royal Highneſs Prince William is to have a Houſhold eſtabliſhed for himſelf, which is to conſiſt of two Gentlemen of the Bedchamber, a Maſter of the Robes, two Grooms of the Bed-chamber, three Pages of the Bed-chamber, four Gentlemen Ushers, a Treaſurer and Receiver General, a Principal Secretary, a Maſter of the Horſe, two Equerries, two Pages of Honour, and ſuch other Officers and Servants as will make the ſame complete.

Sept. 28. Three hundred and eighty-five Cheſts of Silver Plate have been landed from on board the Prince William, lately arrived from Portobello, and brought to the South-Sea Houſe, the laſt being carried thither yeſterday.

London, Octob. 2. Extract of a Letter from Cambridge, dated Sept. 30. at Three a clock in the Afternoon.

'In the utmoſt Confuſion this comes to acquaint you, (and by your Means the Nation) that this Morning about Eleven a Clock, a Fire broke out in an Out-houſe, belonging to the Black Swan at Barnwell near this Place, (and to this Moment continues raging and taking freſh Houſes) which has already burnt above two thirds of the Town; and as the Wind is very high, and in a direct Line thro' the Town, 'tis to be feared very few Families will eſcape. Beſides the Dwelling-Houſes and Out-houſes, a great many Stacks of Corn and Hay are now in Flames.

The ſaid Gentleman has been examined on that Head before Sir Cha. Wager, and Dr. Halley, his Majeſty's Aſtronomer.
